

FOUR SONGS WRITTEN BY LOCAL MAN

BIG MUSIC HOUSE OF THE EAST
BRINGING OUT LOCAL WORK.

The spring catalogs of two of the large music publishing houses of the east will list the work of a local writer.

Edward N. Buck of the Bonanza has four songs in the hands of the publishers now, and they will be on sale over the country in a few weeks. Three of them were brought out by H. Kirkus Dugdale company, of Washington, D. C., and the other by the Eaton Music Publishing company, of New York City. Two of the songs are negro melodies, one a lullaby, and the two others ballads.

The lullaby, "Sing Low, Mah Pickaninny," is particularly catchy, as is also the other coon song, "Mah Honey-Bee," both of which were written here in Tonopah. So also was one of the ballads, "In Fidelity." The other ballad, "My Sweet Virginia Maid," which was written in Manhattan, is being published by the New York house.

Mr. Buck has written only the words, the musical setting being provided by the publishing houses, all of which keep a staff of composers for this work. The usual arrangement is for the author of the words and the publishing house to enter on an equal partnership as regards the receipts from a composition, the house providing the music, publishing the piece, advertising and marketing it. The copyright is owned by the author.

There are big financial rewards in the business of song-writing if one makes a hit. Chas. K. Harris, for instance, realized $50,000 as his share of the returns from "After the Ball." The authors of "Dearie," "In the Shade of the Old Apple Tree," "Hiawatha," and others also made a small fortune from their productions. And the demand for popular ballads, negro melodies, etc., has grown so rapidly of late years—particularly since the development of the moving picture show—that the publishers are hardly able to keep pace with it. The returns are more than gratifying usually.

THE LITTLE GIRL'S ESSAY.

The following was turned to her teacher by a little girl of Manhattan:

"Once on a time there was a little girl and a little boy lived near each other and played together. They grew up and went to school together and liked each other very much. When they were a man and a woman they loved each other dearly and was married and lived happy in a nice home he had got. But one thing made them sad and that was because they didn't have no little children. One day a great man came out and the man went to the country. He was gone a long time and became a general, but he longed the time when he could go home to his loving wife. At last the cruel war ended and the man hurried home and O, what was his joy when his wife presented him with four little children she had got while he was gone. Thus was true love rewarded."

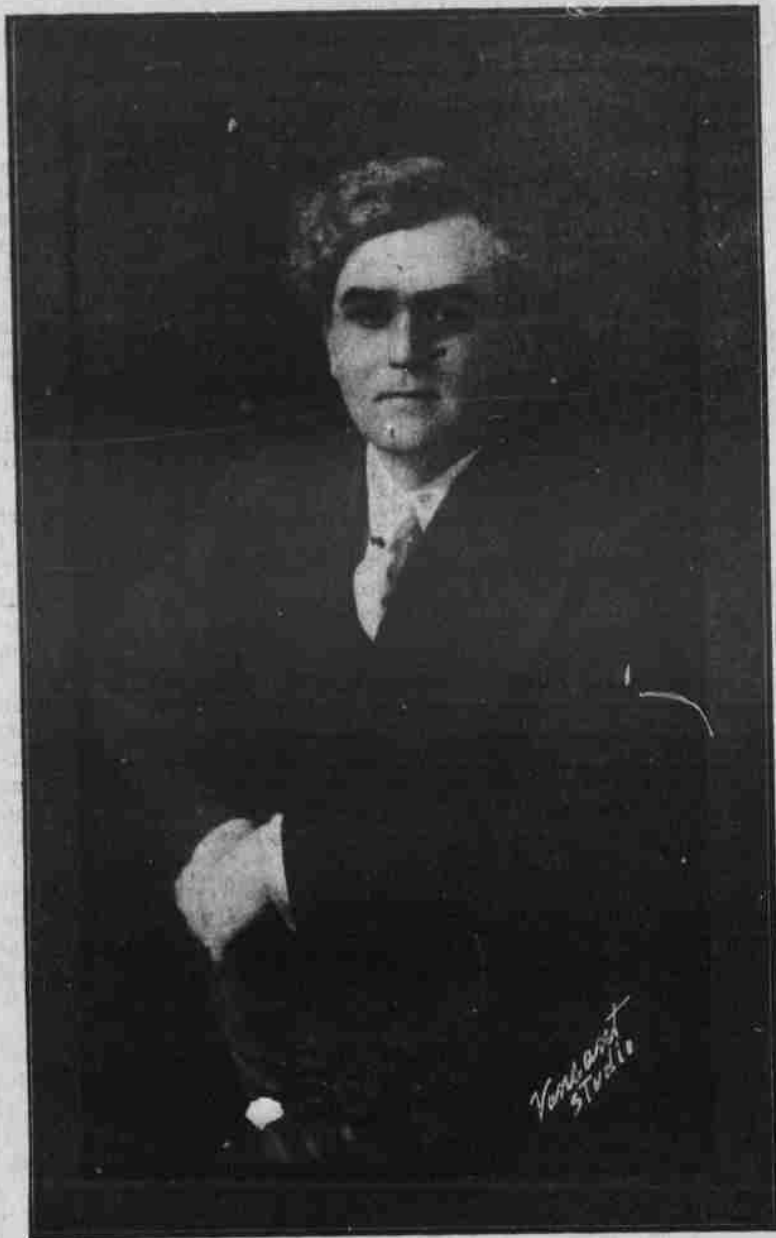

Dan Sully's Old Play On Tonight

The Empire company tonight presents one of its star bills of the week—Daniel Sully's old play, which was a favorite of the theatergoers a generation ago. This is "The Parish Priest," one of the heart-rending melodramas such as our fathers loved.

The company offers an exceptionally well-balanced cast in its production, and those who visit the theatre tonight may rest content that they will witness a splendid entertainment.

A fair audience witnessed the production of "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" last night. It is a western drama of the stirring sort, with enough heart interest in it to appeal to the emotions. All the members of the cast did well in their roles.

The company is here until Saturday night, when the last performance will be given. The company opens in Goldfield Monday night.

RUMOR OF SALE

OF PIONEER HOTEL.

A rumor is current locally that a sale of the Tarbell hotel at Round Mountain has been made, and that Mrs. Ross, formerly of the Turner house of this city, will take over the establishment.

The report could not be confirmed here in town, but some color is given it from the fact that Fred Tarbell, the owner, has for some time been anxious to make a change for personal reasons.

THE TONOPAH MAN DOESN'T GET IT

The appointment of Tom Branton of Reno to the position of commissary of the penitentiary disappoints another Tonopah man, who was figuring on a state job. And consequently there is some more walling and gnashing of teeth.

It was Milo Medin who figured it out that the position of commissary was just about his size, and laid his ropes accordingly. The appointment rested with the new warden, and as Milo considered he had brother Cleve's backing for the position he felt safe. The telegraphic announcement, therefore, of Branton's selection came as a cold, hard jolt on the solar plexus.

E. W. Clapp, formerly of Reno, who was recently made general agent for the Southern Pacific in San Francisco, has been appointed freight and passenger agent for the Harriman lines in New Mexico, Arizona and Mexico, with headquarters at Tucson.
